~~Is there a way we can house-hunt from a distance?~~

"We are being transferred to the West Coast and have no one out there to help us. I can't fly out in advance and would like to avoid living in a motel until we find a suitable place.

"Previews, Inc., Executive Homesearch can service any part of the country from its headquarters at 49 East Fifty-third Street, New York, N.Y., 10022, or offices in Boston; Washington, D.C.; Palm Beach; Chicago; Denver; Los Angeles; and San Francisco. Its representative will have you fill out a very detailed Home Buyer's Requirement Sheet and he will then quickly furnish you with a list of houses that meet your needs, along with descriptions and photographs. He gets these from a member-broker in your new community. There is no charge for this service; you pay only the regular broker's fee when you buy the house."
